FEMALE WEAKNESS

425 L-4 Congress St. PORTLAND, MAINE, Oct. 17, 1900. I consider Wine of Cardui superior to any doctor's medicine I ever used and I know whereof I speak. I suffered for nine months with suppressed menses, which completely prostrated me. Pains would shoot through my back and sides and I would have to lie down. I was unable to do any work. After nineteen days treatment of physicians, but Wine of Cardui came as a God-send to me. I felt a change for the better within a week. After nineteen days treatment I usually did and soon became regular and without pain. Wine of Cardui is simply wonderful and I wish that all suffering women knew of its good qualities.

Wilhelmina Snow
 Treasurer, Portland Economic League

Periodical headaches tell of female weakness. Wine of Cardui cures permanently nineteen out of every twenty cases of irregular menses, bearing down pains or any female weakness. If you are discouraged and doctors have failed, that is the best reason in the world you should try Wine of Cardui now. Remember that headaches mean female weakness. Secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui today.

LETTERS FROM HOME.

Pathetic Incidents of the Life of Miners In the Klondike.

One of the most pathetic things in Jeremiah Lynch's "Three Years In the Klondike" is the story of the eagerness of the men in that land of exile for letters from home. When the postoffice was opened at Dawson the miners would crowd in from all over the country when they heard a mail had arrived. The ignorance of the postal clerks was exasperating, as may be judged from the following conversation:

"Is there not a letter for me—James Culverhouse?"

"No."

"But I am sure there must be one," said the explorer in an appealing voice.

"I tell you there ain't any. Move away and give another man a chance," said the official.

The miner started to leave with a dejected countenance, but as the clerk was putting a bunch of dirty letters back into the little receptacle marked "C" the man cried:

"Why, there it is—there it is, the first letter in your hand! Don't I know my wife's handwriting?" he almost shouted in his excitement.

"Give it to me right away."

The employee, almost grudgingly and without excuse, gave the applicant the letter that otherwise he might never have seen again.

Still more picturesque is the incident that occurred the next day at the Dawson postoffice. The line remained unshortened, and the eagerness of the men could hardly be kept within bounds.

A heavily bearded giant from Dominion Creek called out to a slight man, the fifteenth ahead:

"What will you take for your place in line, pard?"

"Twenty dollars," was the prompt reply.

"All right; here's the cheese," and they exchanged places.

It brought the big man that much nearer home.

Citing an Illustrious Example.

The cook had left without giving warning, and in this emergency the mother of the family was washing the breakfast dishes herself, assisted by the small boy with the high forehead, the thoughtful mien and the deliberate manner of doing things.

"You will have to dry them a little faster, Kenton," she said, "or you will not get them done before it is time for you to start to school."

Kenton accelerated his motions a little.

"Mamma," he said after he had worked in silence several minutes, "when George Washington was the architect for Lord Fairfax he used to eat his meals off a shingle. What was good enough for George Washington is good enough for us."—Chicago Tribune.

Solid Scholarship.

At a political meeting an excited Irishman had risen to yell his satisfaction. "Sit down!" called the man behind him, twitching his coat tails. "Don't you know you're opaque?" "And that I'm not!" cried the other. "I'm O'Brien."

A London paper tells a story of Professor Huxley, which suggests that he may have heard of the Irishman. The professor had made a demonstration and asked a student: "Did you follow me?"

"Yes, sir," he replied, "except at one point, when you were between me and the blackboard."

"Well," said the professor, "I always try to be clear, but I can't make myself transparent."

The Chemical Value of Fruits.

Fruits are composed largely of water, with starches, sugars, a vegetable jelly called pectin, cellulose and organic acids. They have but little food value, but are important on account of their mineral properties, made up of the various acids in combination with potash. They lessen acidity, improve digestion, stimulate the appetite and give variety.

The banana, fig, date, prune and grape afford the most nutriment on account of the large amount of sugar which they contain.

Lemons, oranges, melons and grapes contain the most water and have no special food value. The effects are diuretic.

Stolen Rides.

A gentleman traveling under the seat on the Great Eastern railway had the bad luck to be in the same carriage as the ticket collector. Nor did his bad luck end here. He could not resist going vent to a mighty sneeze, and, coming from no one knew where, his fellow travelers were almost frightened out of their wits. Result—case before the Beak. This reminds us of a journey we once took from Doncaster. As the train was moving out of the station a man sprang into the carriage. Taking a hasty look around, he said, "Gentlemen, I rely upon your honor," and forthwith dived under the seat.—London Sporting Times.

PERFORATED STAMPS.

The Invention For Which Bessemer Was Knighted.

It is almost the universal impression that the late Sir Henry Bessemer was knighted in recognition of the steel process which bears his name, but such was not the case. The honor was bestowed in 1878, when he was sixty-six years old, as a tardy reward for a service rendered the British government about the time of his attaining his majority.

The history of this, as told by James Dredge, is that at the time when, in his early years, Bessemer came into contact with some of the officials of Somerset House, the seat of the inland revenue department, it was notorious that frauds on the government were perpetrated to an alarming extent by the repeated use of stamps affixed to deeds.

It was estimated that an annual loss of £100,000 was sustained from this cause, and to devise a means for entirely putting a stop to this occupation Bessemer's attention. It is almost superfluous to say that he arrived at a solution by the simplest means, that of perforating the government stamps with dates.

Now that this evident method has found a hundred uses throughout the civilized world, to safeguard stamps or checks and to divide postage stamps being among the most common, it is a little difficult to realize the importance of this invention. To Bessemer it meant, in anticipation, vast things—assured fame, a retaining fee of £600 a year as a government official and a great advance on the road to fortune. In reality, however, it meant nothing, for, though the invention was at once adopted, the official promises were soon forgotten.—Cassier's Magazine.

His Courtroom Thunder Stolen.

A member of the Massachusetts bar used to get verdicts by touching appeals to tender feelings of jury men, especially if his client was poor and the defendant was a rich corporation. He became famous for getting verdicts in such cases. One day he met his match. The counsel for a corporation which had been sued undertook to head him off. He had an opportunity to study his opponent's methods and gave special attention to his style in the delivery of pathetic passages.

Having the right to make the opening plea, he told the jury what to expect, described the attitude, tones and manner of his brother lawyer and did it so thoroughly and faithfully that he not only discounted the effects of his plea, but so embarrassed him that he could not do justice to himself or his client, who lost his case.

His Signature.

"Charming! Exquisite! Perfectly delightful!" she exclaimed, peering through her stargers at the young artist's latest picture.

"I am glad you like it," he said, with becoming modesty.

"Like it? Could anybody help liking it? So original! That queer little animal with the funny long legs in the right hand foreground! What a delicious conceit! How can you imagine such impossible things, Mr. D'Aubrey?"

"Um—er—you mean this?" he asked, pointing to the strange thing in the lower corner.

"Yes; of course."

"Er—uh—that is my signature, madam."—Brooklyn Eagle.

The Age of Pericles.

Fame is always hard to define, and it often appears that the names of the greatest philosophers of old are unknown to many people. A gentleman was to deliver a lecture upon the "Age of Pericles" in a country town, and two of the citizens were speaking of it.

After a few remarks upon the lecturer, Mr. Brown asked, "What are Pericles, anyway, Smith?"

"Well, Brown, I don't exactly know, but it's some kind of shell-fish."

"Oh, yes. Then of course 'the age' has reference to the time they have been out of water."

An Accident.

"Why, Johnnie, you've got a big lump on your head. Have you been fighting again, you disgraceful boy?"

"Fightin'? Not me!"

"But somebody struck you?"

"Nobody struck me. I wasn't fightin' at all. It was an accident."

"An accident?"

"Yes. I was sittin' on Tommie Sanders, and I forgot to hold his feet."—Chums.

A Cold Blooded Arrangement.

"I don't see why you dislike Bliggins so much. I don't believe he'd harm his worst enemy."

"No," answered the implacable foe; "he would be afraid of an enemy. Bliggins is one of those people who always pick their friends as victims of a small transaction because they think they can square it by apologizing."—Washington Times.

BEFORE THE CAMERA.

How the Most Satisfactory Pictures May Be Secured.

"The sort of clothes worn by a person when posing for a photograph has a great deal to do with the success or failure of the photographer in securing a good picture," said a photographer.

"Take a waist of silk, with a glistening or polished surface. Such a garment cannot be made to take well in a photograph, and will give a peculiar effect to it that nine out of ten women will not like; yet, when the fact is pointed out to them, they may refuse to believe it. Another thing that does not lend itself well to photographic purposes when made up into garments are goods of a positive pattern, such as large plaids, wide stripes, and so forth. Dresses of these goods may look well on the wearer, and perhaps in a few cases not detract from the effect in a photograph, but as a general proposition they ought to be tabooed by women when having their pictures taken by any photographic process. Sharp contrasts in pronounced colors ought also to be strictly avoided, and get or other glistening or glittering jewelry should not be worn, for the light is reflected from them sometimes in such a way as to spoil almost completely the picture.

"Stiff materials in dresses are also apt to act as a contributing cause to an unsatisfactory photograph. Goods that will fall into soft and graceful folds are the best for a dress to be photographed in, for the artistic possibilities in their arrangement are well nigh limitless. Sharp, harsh lines at the neck and wrist are bad as well. Did you ever notice that when a woman wears some soft chiffon or something of that sort about her neck the photograph is always more pleasing than when she wears a stiff collar or stock?"

"All of these things I have mentioned help to give a photograph that quality which causes a woman to say it isn't entirely satisfactory, even though the features may be excellent. Skilled photographers know these things, and try to have their customers avoid them, but oftentimes persuasion is useless, and then comes the 'kick' when proofs are shown that 'there is something about it I don't like.'—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

He Shaved For Greece.

In the old days of Bangor there was a negro barber named Hansom, who was full of patriotism and love of liberty and who warmly espoused the cause of the Greeks in their struggle with Turkey. His enthusiasm at last grew to such a pitch that he announced that he would devote a day to shaving for the benefit of the Greeks. The idea took, and customers flocked in by the scores, but when they offered payment the barber declined. He had given notice he would shave for the benefit of the Greeks, he said, and "d'yer s'pose I will take pay when I shave for de benefit of de Greeks?" So he shaved all day for nothing and probably felt comforted afterward with the thought that he had done something handsome in aid of the Greeks.—Lewiston Journal.

Soft and Softer.

"How beautifully soft it is!" he murmured, laying his hand on her glorious white arm.

"How less beautiful, but, oh, so much softer!" she tenderly replied, laying her jeweled hand on the top of his venerable head.

THE FIRST LESSON

That the young girl has of womanhood is not seldom a painful lesson. She learns to know what headache means, and backache, and sometimes is sadly borne down by this new experience of life. All the pain and misery which young women commonly experience at such a time, may in almost every instance be entirely prevented or cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity. It tones up the general health, and cures headache, backache, nervousness and other consequences of womanly weakness or disease.

"I received your letter some time ago, with advice about your wonderful medicine," writes Miss Stella Johnson, of 25 Brady Street, Dayton, Ohio. "I was troubled with severe pains every month when I wrote to you for advice. After receiving your letter and following its directions, I am now happy to say that after five years of untold suffering I have not had any pains since first using your 'Favorite Prescription.' I was induced through a friend to write to you and follow your kind advice. I thank God and Dr. R. V. Pierce for the health I now enjoy. I shall urge other women who suffer as I did to use your medicine."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women. Weak and sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

SONOMA INDEX-TRIBUNE.

Sonoma, Sonoma County, Cal., July 30, 1904.

H. H. GRANICE, Editor.

The City Trustees meet in regular monthly session next Wednesday evening. Among other things that will engage their attention will be the erection of a new city hall. Plans and specifications for such an edifice have been prepared by A. C. Lutgens, the well-known architect of San Francisco. These plans have been accepted by the people at a public meeting recently held here and also by the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club and will, in all probability, be adopted by the City Trustees. These plans and specifications were outlined in these columns several weeks ago. They call for a two story stone edifice to cost between $7000 and $8000 and it is doubtful if Mr. Lutgens plan can be improved upon. If this be so we trust there will be no delay in accepting his plans and commencing the erection of an edifice that ought to have been built years ago to replace the ram-hackle monstrosity that has so long disgraced Sonoma and its historic old Plaza.

A COUNTRY newspaper man, who is very fond of honey, visited a neighboring city recently and at one of the hotels was served with some delicious honey. He enjoyed it so much that he told his wife all about it upon returning home. On his next trip to the city she accompanied him. They visited the same hotel and when the noon meal was being served the man said to his wife that he hoped they had some more of that honey. It did not appear, however, and the newspaper man, therefore, beckoned to a waiter and said, "Say, Sambo, where is my honey?" He was almost paralyzed when that worthy grinned and replied: "She doan work here no more boss; she done got a job at the silk mill." The wife received a handsome new dress before they returned home, after making a solemn promise not to tell the story.—Emma C. Campbell in August Lippincott.

The California Viticultural Club, which was organized last March in San Francisco for the purpose of "promoting good fellowship between the members and forwarding in all possible ways viticultural interests," will hold its annual meeting in San Francisco the first and second days of August in Mechanics' Library, Assembly Room, third floor, 12 Post street. Many prominent speakers, viticulturists and enologists, have promised their support for the occasion; many "practical men" will give the result of their experience on questions important to the viticultural industry. The papers will be short so as to have lengthy discussion of each one of them. All those interested in viticulture or the viticultural industries are invited.

What Supports The Heart?

The heart is the hardest worked organ of the human body. It beats on an average of seventy times a minute—from the minute of birth to the minute of death. Every half minute or every thirty-second beat the whole of the blood in the body is pumped through the heart, so that the dual heart moves about six tons of blood in each twenty-four hours. On the purity of that blood depends the strength of the body.

The question then is, how can we keep the blood pure and the heart strong? That question answers itself when we know what is the common cause of the blood's impurity, and whence arises the tendency to heart "trouble." What is blood? Blood is only digested food. In proportion as food is nutritious the blood is rich. In proportion as the food is properly digested the blood is pure. Indigested food clogs and corrupts the blood, and indigestion often precedes or attends the first symptoms of heart "trouble." The first necessity to the production of pure blood is that the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition shall be in the perfect working order of sound health, so that the food received into the stomach is properly digested and perfectly assimilated, for the stomach is the vital center of the body. No man is stronger than his stomach, because physical strength is derived from food digested and assimilated. Deaths ascribed to weak heart and "heart failure," therefore, are more properly ascribed to weak stomach and stomach failure.

It is this dependence of the heart upon the stomach which explains the cures of "heart trouble" effected by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This medicine cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It purifies the blood, eliminating from it the substances which corrupt and poison it. Even this alone would take the strain from the overtaxed heart. But Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery also acts directly upon the heart itself. It strengthens the heart's action. It contains one of the best and most efficient heart tonics known to medical practice, and as a natural consequence the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" has resulted in many notable cures of the heart when it has become involved in disease. It removes the predisposing cause of heart trouble and makes the weak heart strong.

$3,000 forfeit will be cheerfully paid in lawful money of the United States, by the proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, if they cannot show the original statements and signatures of every testimonial among the thousands which they are constantly publishing attesting the superior curative properties of their several medicines, and thus proving the genuineness and reliability of all the multitude of testimonials volunteered by grateful people.

World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

"It is with the greatest pleasure that I add my testimony to your list of sufferers who have been helped the same as I have been," writes Mrs. Wm. F. Young, of Trenton, Ontario. "Last January I took a very bad spell and was for ten days and nights suffering pains in my head, neck and arms, and had faint spells and heart trouble. Was taking five different kinds of medicine from the doctor all at one time. Could not do my housework at all, and stomach troubled me so I could not eat anything without having an uneasy feeling. One day I thought I would give your medicine a trial. I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and I feel better now than for years. Can do all the work for seven in family, but before using your medicine I could hardly do any work and could not be left alone. I had been such a sufferer for the last six years. I truly believe that if every poor sufferer would give Dr. Pierce's medicines a fair trial there would not be so many invalids."

"Our little boy, now three and a half years of age had been delicate since birth," writes Mrs. J. A. Shotwell, of East Stroudsburg, Pa., Box 158. "About eighteen months ago an abscess formed in the groin which we had lanced, and it continued to discharge for eight months. We were told an operation would be necessary to stop it. Acting on the advice of friends, I began giving our child Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The discharge stopped before he had taken two bottles. He has taken eight bottles and his health now is good."

"For about nine years I suffered with ulcers on my ankle and one on my instep which at times would pain so severely I could not sleep night or day," writes Mrs. J. T. Sefton, of Yatesboro, Pa. "A friend advised me to try Dr. Pierce's medicines, which I did, and found great relief. Had only taken one bottle when I could do a hard day's work and could lie down and rest at night without pain. The ulcers are entirely well and I have better health than I have had for about twelve years. Took fifteen bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and can recommend your medicine to any similar sufferer. I send you sincere thanks, and blessings for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

FUGITIVE FORGER
ARRESTED AT AGUA
CALIENTE SPRINGS

Traced to the Valley by San Francisco Detectives
and Taken Into Custody
Thursday Last.

Detective Richard Bell on Thursday morning last arrested Ambrose Carpenter at Agua Caliente and took him prisoner to San Francisco on the afternoon train and booked him at the city prison on a charge of forgery.

Carpenter was lately the private secretary of Edward B. Rogers of the Rogers' Engineering Company. On Monday last he attempted to cash a check for $175 at the Anglo-California Bank to which the name of E. B. Rogers had been forged. The suspicious signature was discovered by the paying teller and Carpenter fled from the bank building before he could be apprehended. He then took the California North-western afternoon train for Agua Caliente, where his parents are camping for the summer.

Carpenter was arrested on complaint of the bank officials and after being taken before Judge Conlan an additional warrant was issued against him for the alleged forging of the name of Mrs. Augusta Rogers to a check for $175 which was cashed by the paying teller of the Anglo-California Bank on the 18th inst.

The Best Way Out of a Bad Roof.

When a roof gets bad it gets so bad that the more you think you do on it the more you have to do. It is an endless expense and annoyance and the best way out of it is to cover it up entirely with Elaterite, the roofing that does not wear out or ever needs painting or repairing, but gives you permanent protection from leaks. It is made of mineral rubber, is therefore fire proof, and has the endurance that places it above comparison with anything else in the line of roofing, though costing no more. Ask your local agent for samples, price list and full information, or write to Sam Meyer, Healdsburg, distributor for Sonoma, Lake and Mendocino counties.

EL VERANO.

By Happy Hooligan.

F. A. Riser of Cnap Valley visited his family in this place the fore part of the week.

County Assessor Frank Dowd, of Santa Rosa spent several days this week at Camp Lakeville on the Maxwell place which has been established here by a number of residents of Lakeville.

Supervisor Blair Hart and wife drove over from Lakeville Sunday and spent the evening with friends who are camping here.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Lounibos and John Lounibos left for Bodega last Tuesday, where they will spend a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Olsen were presented with a brand new baby girl on Saturday, July 23d.

James and William Baines of San Francisco visited the J. Baines ranch Sunday.

Miss Hattie Sharkey and Miss Lizzie Underwood, two stunning Oakland girls, are guests at the El Verano Villa.

Hugh and William Chance came up from the city last Saturday to attend the ball at the El Verano Villa in the evening.

Joe B. Small of Sonoma was a passenger on the north bound S. P. train Tuesday morning.

John Serres, Jr., visited the county seat Wednesday.

Miss Harriet Scott, a stenographer in the President's office of the Union Iron Works, will spend several weeks in this place.

Miss D. McCaffery, a bookkeeper in Hale Bros. San Francisco store, is visiting friends in this place.

Joe Murphy will take in the Hanlon-Nelson fight in San Francisco Friday night.

The ball at El Verano Villa Saturday evening promises to be well attended and a good time is looked forward to by the party goers of the valley.

A race track will be laid out in this place in the near future. Already our sports are making up races. One was arranged last Tuesday and the following horses were entered: "Black Bess," owned by R. Ent; "Roxie Murphy," Al Weaver's world beater; "Limpie Jim," owned by Joe Murphy and a great eastern horse and last, but not least, "Sad Sam," owned and rated by J. Peter Serres, Jr. The purse will be $100 and it looks now as if "Black Bess" will be a big favorite over the other whirlwinds.

A grand masquerade ball was given at the El Verano Villa last Friday evening. Over seventy-five couples were present. The grand march was called at 9 o'clock and El Verano's first mask ball was on. Emmet Mullen and Miss Rosie Marchand was awarded first prize for best sustained characters; the former representing a sailor. Thos. Baines of this place was one of the three judges.

Charley Clarke, well known in El Verano as Loddar, is spending a few weeks at the El Verano Villa. Mr. Clarke has a host of friends in this place who are always glad to see him and hear his charming songs. Everyone is happy during his sojourn among us.

"Hooligan," as usual, since his return is making a "hit" among the summer fairies. Last year he was IT and it seems the fairies think there is nobody like Happy.

Thos. Baines, the well known and rising young real estate man of the firm of Peters & Baines of San Francisco, was a visitor to Santa Rosa Thursday.

A grafting Jew is among our people. This long nosed Hebrew, who is from San Francisco, tried to get Happy to go on a hay ride, but too wise for him was the hero of the comic supplements. This young fellow got up a hay ride one day this week, costing him five dollars. He succeeded in getting people enough to cough up to the sum of eight dollars, thereby making three dollars on the proposition. This young man is very "small," indeed, scheming to make money out of a good time when he is supposed to be here for recreation alone. But his graft is too coarse and Happy is on to such fellows as these, having been around a little himself.

HAPPY HOOLIGAN.
El Verano, July 28, 1904.

Seventeen Cars of Excursionists.

Seventeen cars of excursionists visited Sonoma Valley last Sunday. This large crowd was brought here by the California Northwestern Railway Company which, by its low rates, is doing more than anything else to attract attention to this lovely valley of running streams, warm sunshine and beautiful flowers.

Friends and the public are invited to call on Arthur S. Whiting to investigate this wonderful Elaterite Roofing.

GLEN ELLEN

By Chapple.

The Dunbar school will re-open next Monday, August 1st.

Mr. Wm. Van DeWaler made a business trip to San Francisco the past week.

Mr. Henry Chauvet and family have gone into camp on the coast and will remain there for several weeks.

Mrs. Degelhoff of Oakland, who holds a State life diploma, has been elected teacher of the Dunbar school for the coming term.

Mr. Wickbaur, bookkeeper of the Home and who has been occupying one of the O'Donnell cottages, has moved to the home with his family.

The matron of the Home and one of the lady nurses have rented the Reed ranch and purchased the stock of chickens, etc., of Mrs. Perry.

Mrs. Perry, with her mother and little daughter Marion, left Thursday for Maryland; where she is taking the remains of her husband for burial.

One hundred and forty dollars were cleared at the garden party, held for the benefit of the Catholic Church, at "Cosy Cottage" on Saturday evening last.

J. V. Miner visited Sonoma Monday.

Mr. Miner, who has an ideal farm on the banks of Sonoma creek, opposite the Hearst ranch, is contemplating converting it into a resort for summer visitors.

Mrs. Mary Berliner (nee Nunn) with her two bright sons, were visitors at the Just ranch last Thursday. Mrs. Berliner's father, Alex. Nunn, is the gentleman from whom the Nunn canyon derived its name.

Julius Poppe brought a party of San Francisco people for a hay ride from Sonoma to Glen Ellen the other day. On their arrival here one of the party discovered that milk and creamers do not grow on the same vine.

Miss Helen Youngman, who for the past three weeks has been visiting her parents, returned to her post of duty as telegraph operator at Redwood City. Miss Youngman is a most excellent young lady—an example for any one—and a daughter to be more than proud of.

A jolly hunting party, composed of Jas. Shaw, Charles Weise, James Pieratt, Carl Dreesel, Mr. Kerridge, Frank Luttrell and Joe Cowen, are up in the Kohler mountains hunting deer. Boys I hope you will have better luck than you had in Mendocino; there were two many wheels on that wagon.

The garden party given for the benefit of the new Catholic Church of this place was a grand success. On entering the beautiful grounds of Dr. O'Donnell one could almost imagine they were in fairyland. The place was brightly lighted up with red Chinese lanterns, giving a most cheerful effect. The ladies, in their dainty gowns, looked like fairies. The booths were presided over very ably by those in charge; the music was good and the program excellently rendered by local and San Francisco talent. Much credit is due to Dr. and Mrs. O'Donnell for the success of the affair.

Painful Accident.

Walter Poulson, the sixteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Poulson who is working in Ween's store, met with a painful accident last Wednesday. While in the act of lifting a heavy box a protruding nail entered the left forefinger and ripped it open to the bone. The accident will prevent him using his left hand for a week or two.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years it was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer $100 for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. R. MAURY SIMS
IS TO WED MISS
LOUISA BUNDSCHU

Wedding Will Take Place on September 9th at Home
of Miss Bundschu's
Parents.

Miss Louise Bundschu, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bundschu, planned a pleasant surprise for her friends last Sunday, says the San Francisco Chronicle, when, at the "at home" for which her parents had sent out cards, she announced the coming of her marriage next September to R. Maury Sims, the young attorney. The engagement has been known to Miss Bundschu's intimate friends for some time, though it was never officially announced, but that the date of the wedding has been set was a genuine surprise to all. She will be married September 9th, the anniversary of her parents' wedding day. Miss Bundschu is a charming, graceful girl, with a host of friends, who were delighted with the occasion afforded to wish her all kinds of happiness. She is devoted to athletic sports and a fearless horsewoman.

Mr. Sims is a member of an old South Carolina family that, in past years, was closely identified by the history of that State. He was assistant district attorney for four years but is now devoting all his time and energy to his private law practice.

SUNSET TELEPHONE CO.

Its Rural Service to be in Operation Next Week.

The rural telephone service between this place and Embarcadero will be in operation next week. The poles are up and linemen have been engaged the past few days in placing the wires in position. Manager Jones of Santa Rosa of the Sunset Telephone Company was in town Tuesday and reports that many new subscribers, both urban and suburban, are adding their names to the list of patrons of the local telephone system recently inaugurated here by his company.

In this connection it might not come amiss to add that Mrs. L. S. Simmons, who has charge of the central office in this place, is on duty from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. These are long hours and it is only fair that the patrons of the office accord to Mrs. Simmons some time to rest, sleep and eat. This, of course, she cannot do if she is on duty every hour of the twenty-four. Our local telephone service is in the hands of a good and faithful operator and too much should not be expected of one whom we are quite sure will do all in her power to cater to the wants of her telephone patrons, who ought not to forget that she is deserving of some consideration at their hands.

SOME QUEER LAKES.

One of the Oddest of the Lot is the Pitch Lake of Trinidad.

One of the most singular lakes in the world is the celebrated pitch lake of the island of Trinidad. This lake spreads over an area of ninety-nine acres, and its surface is composed of one great floating mass of asphaltum, seamed with veins of clear water. From it and a similar lake in Venezuela the world's supply of asphalt is drawn, says the Washington Post.

The pitch lake is a hideous place as far as smells are concerned, for the air all about it is heavy with noxious vapors, and from the center of the lake gushes a fountain of liquid asphaltum, in which there float and break bubbles containing most horrible gases.

The workmen go out on the surface of this lake and cut great slabs of asphaltum, which are carried away. But the next morning the hole they left is filled up again with the pitch which has risen during the night, so that the supply seems to be inexhaustible.

This curious lake was discovered by Sir Walter Raleigh when he landed on Trinidad in 1595, on his way to the mouth of the Orinoco in search of El Dorado.

Another strange lake is situated on a peninsula which juts out into the Caspian sea. The whole surface of this lake is covered with a crust of salt so thick and strong that a man can ride across it on horseback with safety.

In central Asia, near the Caspian sea, is a lake of beautiful rose color, while the banks are covered with salt crystals as white as snow. From the waters of this lake there arises a flowerlike odor. The color and the odor are supposed to be caused by vegetable matter in the depths.

There used to be a curious lake on the top of the Volcano de Agua, in Guatemala, 14,000 feet above the level of the sea. It was not fed by springs or by rivers, but was caused by accumulations of snow and rain—in fact, was an immense reservoir. It lasted for centuries. Then, one day, the sides of the lake gave way, and down the waters rolled, dealing death and destruction, and digging a great barranca, or ravine, in the mountain side, which is still visible.

A Lesson Soon Learned.

John was very crestfallen indeed, and had promised his wife that never more would he be tempted to waste his substance in riotous living.

"Yes, I know," sighed the good lady, "but I'm getting to doubt your promises. The great trouble with you, John, is that you do not seem to be able to say 'No.' Learn to say 'No,' and you will find much less difficulty in life. Will you promise me that you will never leave off trying till you have learned to say 'No.'"

"Yes," said the contrite John. "That's right! And now can you let me have a little money this morning?"

"No," said John, with apparent ease.

The Mariner's Explanation.

A sailor was once asked by a messmate not quite so well up in matters social as himself to explain to him the third figure in a quadrille.

"You first of all heave ahead," said he, "and pass your adversary's yardarm. Then in a jiffy regain your berth on the other tack in the same kind of order. Slip along sharp, and take your station with your partner in line. Back and fill, and then fall on your heel, and bring up with your craft. She then maneuvers ahead of alongside you. Then make sail in company with her until nearly astern of the other line, make a stern board, cast her off to shift for herself, regain your place out of the squadron as best you can, and let go your anchor."

Such Stuff as Dreams.

"The face of my dreams!" he cried as he watched a beautiful young woman standing in front of a department store window. "I must speak to her."

"You have dreamed of me?" she asked in surprise.

"Yes, miss. Your face has haunted me for, lo, these many nights. May I call?"

"You want my name and address?"

"If I may be bold, fair one."

"Then dream again, and perhaps they will come to you," she said sweetly as she walked away.—New York Telegram.

A Good Waiter.

Stranger (to hotel proprietor)—Have you a vacancy among your waiters?

Hotel Proprietor—Well, I don't know. I suppose I might make a place for a man of fine address like you. Have you ever had any experience in waiting?

Stranger—Well, I should say so. I waited thirteen years to marry a girl, and last week she married another fellow.—London Standard.

An Example of Yankee Shrewdness.

"Talk about Yankee shrewdness," said the traveling man. "I was in a little tavern up in Connecticut not long ago, and a farmer came in with eggs to sell. The transaction took place in the barroom of the establishment. The proprietor agreed to take two dozen, and when the farmer came to count over the contents of his basket he found that he had twenty-five eggs. The proprietor wanted the extra egg thrown in for good measure. The farmer didn't see it that way, and they argued the matter. At last the proprietor said he'd take the twenty-five eggs, give the man a drink and call it square. The farmer agreed and pocketed his money.

"Now, what'll you have?" asked the proprietor.

"The Yankee farmer was ready with his reply.

"Sherry and egg," said he.—Washington Post.

INDIGESTION.

With its companions, heart burn, flatulence, torpidity of the liver, constipation, palpitation of the heart, poor blood, headache and other nervous symptoms, sallow skins, foul tongue, offensive breath and a legion of other ailments, is at once the most widespread and destructive malady among the American people. The Herbine treatment will cure all these troubles. 50c a bottle.

Sold by L. S. Simmons, prescription druggist, Sonoma, Cal.

YOSEMITE VALLEY.

Santa Fe the Big Tree Way.

The Santa Fe runs through the only groves of California Big Trees in the Yosemite National Park. They are the largest trees in the world and may be seen without side ride or extra expense by taking the Santa Fe on your visit to Yosemite Valley.

Travellers say the Santa Fe is the best for scenery and comfort.

Folders and full information at 641 Market street, San Francisco. 5

Baseball Players and Foot Racers

Louis J. Kruger, ex-champion long distance foot racer of Germany and Holland, writes, Oct. 27th, 1901: "During my training of eight weeks' foot races at Salt Lake City in April last, I used Ballard's Snow Liniment to my greatest satisfaction. Therefore, I highly recommend Snow Liniment to all who are troubled with sprains, bruises or rheumatism. 25c, 50c, $1 bottle. Sold by L. S. Simmons, prescription druggist, Sonoma, Cal.

What Started the Fight.

"Never heard what broke up their friendship? Dear me! I thought every one had heard that. Brown is engaged, you know."

"Oh, yes! I've heard that. Was White in love with the same girl?"

"No, no. Not at all. But White saw her portrait in Brown's room and asked whose it was. 'It's a picture of my fiancée,' said Brown. White examined it critically and then put it down with the remark that she must be very rich. I don't know what happened after that, but White was taken home in a cab, and neither of them was seen out of doors for a week."

CROUP

Is a violent inflammation of the mucous membrane of the wind pipe which sometimes extends to the larynx and bronchial tubes and is one of the most dangerous diseases of children. It almost always comes on in the night. Give frequent small doses of Ballard's Horehound Syrup and apply Ballard's Snow Liniment externally to the throat. 25c, 50c, $1.00.

Sold by L. S. Simmons, prescription druggist, Sonoma.

Not His Fault.

Customer—I believe you are the man of whom I bought this cane?

Shopkeeper—Yes, I sold you that cane.

Customer—And you said that the handle was of genuine ivory, and I find that it is artificial.

Shopkeeper—I can't help it, sir. I import my ivory direct from Ceylon, and the only explanation that I can give is that the elephants have taken to wearing false tusks.

Safeguard the Children.

Notwithstanding all that is done by boards of health and charitably inclined persons, the death rate among small children is very high during the hot weather of the summer months in the large cities. There is not, probably, one case of bowel complaint in a hundred, however, that could not be cured by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Sold by R. G. Shoults.

MAN AND THE DOG.

The Animal is Loved, Yet His Name Serves For Insults.

How is it possible that we love dogs so much, yet when we are angry we call people dogs? When the Turks speak of us they say we are "Christian dogs!" If we despise a man we call him a puppy. If we love a girl we call her sparrow, kitten, dove, chicken. We say "that dog of a coward," "that contemptible cur," "that low down yellow dog," etc. Dog protects man. He lives in man's house and guards man's property and life. Yet we use "dog" always as an insulting epithet. An offensive person is as impudent as a dog! We regularly record the dog days. The dog has the honor of being always in the heavens in the constellations of the great and little dog. Sirius, the dog star, is the brightest of all the stars in the firmament.

We make laws for the dog's protection, we love him, cherish, wash, comb and dress him, minister unto him when he is ill, pay taxes to own him, let him lie in our laps, kiss him, take him to ride in carriages. Indians and Chinamen eat him. Yet in all Scripture "dog" is a most degrading expression. In the Levitical law the dog was regarded as unclean, in company of the griffin, the hare, the pig and the eel. There is no expression in the Bible of the fidelity, love and watchful care of the dog. How is it, then, that we so honor the dog as to use him in art as a symbol of fidelity and affection in women and courage and magnanimity in men?—New York Press.

Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Ten Years of Suffering.

"I wish to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mrs. Mattie Burge of Martinsville, Va. "I suffered from chronic diarrhoea for ten years and during that time tried various medicines without obtaining any permanent relief. Last summer one of my children was taken with cholera morbus and I procured a bottle of this remedy. Only two doses were required to give her entire relief. I then decided to try the medicine myself and did not use all of one bottle before I was well and I have never since been troubled with that complaint. One cannot say too much in favor of that wonderful medicine."
